

Client Case T-Mobile

Service Description

T-Mobile were exploring the possibility to outsource and optimize their Network Logistics to gain cost efficiencies, improve supply chain integration and transparency.

Solution

All-In Logistics, specialized in the Telecom Infrastructure and Roll Out industry, offers end-to-end Network Logistics as well as Parts Management solutions and partners with its customers to design Supply Chain solutions tailored to the industry needs.

All-in Logistics re-designs the Telecom infra supply chain by centralizing inventories and facilitating just in time roll out concepts. Moreover, with our All-in Direct concept (WebStore), All-in logistics supports local contractors by offering Web ordering and delivery of accessories, tools and equipment needed on site.

Services included:

- Inventory management, storage (incl. consignment) & warehousing
- Pre-installation, commissioning and on-site deliveries (roll outs), includes hoisting services
- HUB & Depot management (parts management)
- Critical Parts distribution and 24/7 Standby service
- RMA management and vendor return management
- Disposal management (WEEE)
- Product replenishment and replacement

Result

All business processes are driven by system integration and managed by our central real-time web-based All-in Control System, providing order status and tracking information visibility. This results in optimization of the mobile network coverage.
